sink or float

In a bowl of water, see which red fruits and veggies sink, and which float. Can you guess?

Set up your kitchen lab:

Ingredients

A variety of red fruits and veggies like apples, strawberries, red peppers, red potatoes, red grapes and radishes

Equipment

Large bowl, water

What did you discover?

Why do you think some float and others don't?

What happens if you peel an apple – does the peel sink or float?

Do the seeds sink or float?

Answer: If fruits and veggies float that means they have a lot of small air pockets inside them. By testing individual parts, like the peel and seeds of an apple, you see that some parts float (the peel) and some don't (the seeds) but when all the parts are put together they do float.

What happens when citrus fruit juice (like lemon, orange or grapefruit juice) is mixed with baking soda? Let's find out!

Set up your kitchen lab:

Ingredients

A lemon, a grapefruit, an orange and baking soda

Equipment

Muffin tin, measuring spoon and dropper

STEP 1: Measure 1 1/2 teaspoons of baking soda into 3 muffin cups.

STEP 2: Wash and cut fruit into wedges (perfect for smelling and squeezing).

STEP 3: Smell each citrus fruit. Then squeeze the juice from each fruit into its own separate bowl.

STEP 4: Using a dropper (or spoon), drop orange juice into one cup with baking soda. Report what happens. Then do the same thing with grapefruit and then lemon.

STEP 5: Why do you think it fizzed and bubbled? Which juice caused the biggest reaction?

! SAFETY FIRST!

Power chefs always ask an adult before using knives, appliances, the stove, the oven or hot ingredients.

Answer: When the citrus fruit mixes with the baking soda, it forms a gas, called carbon dioxide, which is what you see with the fizzing and bubbling.

GET READY – PICK A RECIPE

- Do I have all the ingredients? What else do I need?
- What kitchen tools do I need?

GET SET – EXPLORE THE GROCERY STORE

While at the store, can you find at least one fruit or veggie (fresh, frozen or canned) from each color of the rainbow that you would like to try?

GO – PRACTICE YOUR CHEF SKILLS

Now it's time for the fun of prepping and cooking as you practice your power chef skills. Be sure to always ask an adult for help. Here are three things a power chef does every time they cook:

SCRUB

Wash hands before touching food (scrub front, back and in between fingers). Sing the ABCs and you'll be done when you get to the letter Z.

WASH

Wash fruits and veggies before you cut, cook or eat them.

TRY

Taste what you create to make sure it's great!

! SAFETY FIRST!

Power chefs always ask an adult before using knives, appliances, the stove, the oven or hot ingredients.

POWER CHEFS – WE CHALLENGE YOU TO MASTER THESE SKILLS!

MEASURE + POUR

Liquid and dry ingredients use different measuring cups.

- Liquid: for liquids like milk, water and oils

Use a liquid measuring cup: keep it flat!
Bend down to measure at eye level

- Dry: for fruits, veggies, nuts and flour

Spoon into a measuring cup
and level it off with a flat edge

After measuring, slowly pour into your mixing bowl.

SLICE + CHOP

Knives are an important tool for power chefs to slice, dice and chop – but they come with safety rules.

The “Claw” and “Pinch” Grip

1. Hold knife with a “pinch grip” up where the handle meets the blade.
2. With the other hand, curl fingers under to make a “claw” shape. This protects the fingers, while holding the food in place.
3. Slowly and carefully slice, never taking your eyes off the knife when using it.

Which knife, for which job?

- Paring: Peeling and chopping fruits and veggies

- Chef: Mincing, slicing and chopping

- Serrated: Slicing bread, tomatoes and citrus fruits

PINCH GRIP

CLAW

Little chefs can start with a plastic knife on soft fruits like bananas!

PEEL + SHRED

PEEL means to remove the outer skin of fruits or veggies, like a cucumber.

1. Hold peeler firmly by the handle.
2. Hold the food with other hand on a flat surface.
3. Slide the peeler blade down along the food in one even stroke, away from your body.

SHRED means to chop or tear food finely.

1. Hold handle on box grater and press down onto a clean, flat surface.
2. Slide food down the grater.
3. Protect your fingers! Stop when you have 1-2 inches of the food left.

HEAT + SAUTE

Adding heat helps power chefs finish their yummy creations.

- Sauté: to fry quickly in a little hot oil
- Roast: to cook in an oven at high temperature (400°F or higher) or over a fire

! SAFETY FIRST!

Power chefs always ask an adult before using knives, appliances, the stove, the oven or hot ingredients.

RECIPE SUBSTITUTIONS

food allergies & sensitivities

Food allergies and sensitivities don't need to get in the way of becoming a power chef. These recipe substitutions can be used to modify many recipes into a yummy and safe treat.

PEANUT AND TREE NUT SUBSTITUTIONS

Seeds – like pepitas (pumpkin seeds) or sunflower butter or seeds are great for granola, trail mix, in yogurt or on toast.

Legumes (beans) – roasted beans, like garbanzo beans, make a great crunchy, protein- and fiber-packed snack.

NOTE: Some kids with peanut allergies are allergic to the whole legume family, including beans, peas and soy.

SOY SAUCE SUBSTITUTION

Coconut aminos, can be a soy- and gluten-free alternative to soy sauce. Made from just two ingredients: coconut tree sap and salt.

EGG SUBSTITUTIONS

Children with egg allergies must avoid egg in all forms. In a typical recipe for baked goods, egg plays one of two roles: either as a binder (to hold the recipe together) or as a leavening agent (to help it rise).

Egg as a binder. One egg is often equal to any of the following:

- 1/2 medium banana, mashed
- 1/4 cup applesauce
- 1 tablespoon ground flax seed mixed with 3 tablespoons warm water, let stand for 1 minute before using

Egg as a leavening agent. One egg is equal to these ingredients combined:

- 1 1/2 tablespoons vegetable oil (like canola) +
- 1 1/2 tablespoons water + 1 teaspoon baking powder

NOTE: Commercial egg substitutes are also available – general rule of thumb, if recipe calls for 3 or more eggs, the egg substitute doesn't work.

MILK AND MILK PRODUCT (DAIRY) SUBSTITUTIONS

All of these milks can typically be replaced in recipes one-for-one:

- Soy milk
- Oat milk
- Rice milk
- Almond milk
- Coconut milk
- Cashew milk
- Hemp milk
- Flax milk

Substitutions for yogurt and cheese are also available:

- Soy-based
- Coconut-based
- Pea-based
- Nut-based

NOTE: Read the ingredients carefully, even if it says “non-dairy,” because it may still have casein in it, which is a milk protein. Goat milk is not considered a safe alternative for those allergic to milk.

WHEAT AND GLUTEN-FREE SUBSTITUTIONS

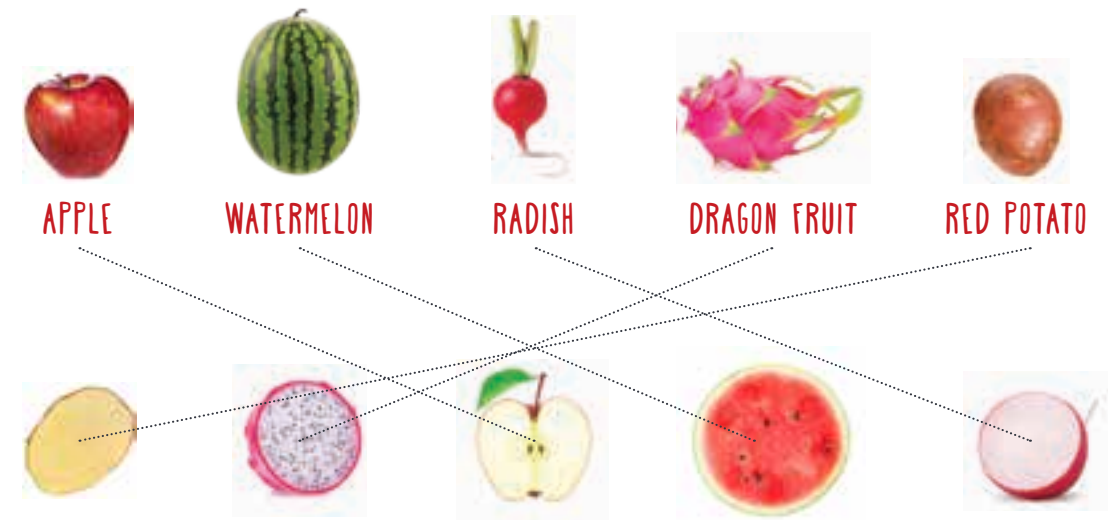

- Ground rolled oats (must be labeled Certified Gluten-Free)
- Garbanzo bean (chickpea) flour
- Potato starch
- Tapioca starch
- Almond flour
- Rice flour

NOTE: Measurement when replacing wheat flour with other flours may not be one-to-one, so be sure to read instructions on the package for how to accurately replace one with the other.

! SAFETY FIRST!

Always read the food packaging to help ensure these allergens are not present or have not come in contact with an allergen, which is often labeled with “may contain” statements and/or “manufactured in a facility that also processes” the particular allergens. Small traces of allergens can cause allergic reactions.
